MISSING AND EXPLOITED CHILDREN SEMINAR

Chief Steven Mazzie of the Everett Police Department recently attended a seminar for senior law enforcement personnel on Missing and Exploited Children.

The Department of Justice Office of Juvenile Justice and Delinquency Prevention and the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children sponsored the free two-day seminar. The seminar was conducted at the Jimmy Ryce Law Enforcement Training Center in Arlington Virginia.

The seminar focused on strategies that law enforcement agencies could use to prevent, investigate and mobilize resources as well as develop policies for handling Missing and Exploited Children cases.
